CELEBRATED THEIR SILVER WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Robinson celebrated their twenty fifth anniversary of their wedding on Tuesday evening of this week.

One of their sons came down from San Francisco to attend the function while a number of relatives came up from Honolulu and a great many friends from all over Maui were present to express their congratulations and best wishes for this popular couple who are well known on Maui and have as friends all who know them.

The decorations were very elaborate. The verandas were decorated with Japanese lanterns, the parlor was decorated with huge pots of Australian ferns and palms. A koi table was laden with silver ware presents from their friends. The dining room was prepared for eighty guests who did justice to the many Hawaiian dishes. After these had dined the tables were again prepared for as many more.

Messrs Lindsay and Murdoch took flashlight pictures after which the dining room was cleared for dancing which was kept up until daylight.

William Punohu's string band furnished the music for the dancers.

During the evening Mrs. T. B. Lyons played several selections on the piano which were greatly appreciated. The vocal selections by S. Kelihoi were especially good.

Ice cream and cake were provided in abundance and served frequently during the evening.

Among those present were Geo. T. Robinson, father of Henry Robinson, George T. Robinson, the eldest brother of Henry Robinson, John A. Robinson, H. P. Robinson, Selden P. Robinson, who has been on the S. S. Siberia Miss Alice Robinson, Alvin Robinson, T. R. Foster Robinson, Louise Robinson, Colville Robinson all these being children of H. P. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Robinson, Miss Eva Robinson, Lovie Robinson, Anson Robinson and Orlet Robinson children of Mr. and Mrs. W. T.

Robinson and Mr. J. A. Aheong only brother of Mrs. H. P. Robinson. Besides these were Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Lindsay, Dr. and Mrs. McConkey, Mr. and Mrs. Murdoch, Miss Huesner, Miss Toomey, Miss Aki, Mr. Hocking, Mr. Whiteside, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Church, Mr. and Mrs. James Gunn, Mr. and Mrs. Pratt, Miss Louise Pratt and brother, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Lowell, Mr. Dan Driscoll, Mr. D. Jamieson, Mr. Ed. Peek, Miss Clara Mosses, Miss Maggie Mosses, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Carey, Miss Betts, Alfred Martensen, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Taylor, Miss Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Kahokuoluna, Becky Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kalamia, Mrs. McLean, Mrs. Soule, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. S. Kelihoi, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Hart, Mrs. Sommerfield, Miss Zelle Rogers, Miss Ella Groves, Miss Leilani Weight, Mrs. Annie Reist, Mr. Nunes and two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. James Shaw and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Rosecrans, Miss Rosecrans, Miss de Lima and about a hundred others to many to mention. Three children returned to their schools Wednesday, also H. P. Robinson as conductor for the Rapid Transit. S. H. Robinson will soon return to his duty as Junior engineer on the S. S. Manchuria, John A. Robinson will remain a couple of months or so for a vacation then will return to San Francisco to resume his work in the Levy Electric Co. where he is doing well as an electrician.

DEMOCRATS OPEN CAMPAIGN.

The Democratic campaign was begun by a meeting of the faithful Thursday evening at the Wailuku court house. H. C. Mossman, Ant. de Rego, S. Kaiolo, J. M. Vivas, Antone Faustino and James Kawelo were elected delegates to the convention.

J. M. Vivas spoke for some time and did his old race stunt. He claimed the Hawaiians had been misinformed as to the attitude of the better class of Democrats of the Southern States and said that more Democrats of the South associated with negroes than did Republicans of the North. He failed, however, to state that Secretary Lamar of President Cleveland's cabinet refused to meet Queen Kapiolani on account of her color. He also failed to state that the colored people of the South are not permitted to ride in the same car with the very people he says associate with them and that they are not allowed to put up at the same hotel nor to attend the same theatres.

He said the Democratic party would not furnish money to the people but would put up men who deserved their votes.

The Republicans, he said, were the ones who had in mind the annexation of the islands while the Democrats did not, and that the Democrats were in favor of taking care of their own but were not in favor of expansion as the Republicans were.

He prophesied that the Republican party would be dead in three years in the Territory and if the Democrats should win out in the national election the Republicans here would run themselves out of breath to join the democratic party.

He said in effect that the policy of the Republican party was dictated by one man and without his sanction a man could not be appointed to an office, whether the office be that of poundmaster or Judge.

Vivas then undertook to say that the Democratic party was a party of free thought but a slip of the tongue made his statement very different and his break was greeted with laughter.

The funniest part of the entertainment was the efforts of Tom Clark to interpret for Vivas. Tom either purposely or otherwise took the bits in his own teeth and while Vivas talked on one theme Tom interpreted in another to the great amusement of those who understood both languages.

Antone de Rego was the next speaker. Now Antone has never been known as an orator of the first rank but he proved to be the winning card of the evening.

He spoke in Portuguese and after mixing personalities with steamships said that the reason the Portuguese are down is because of seven men on Maui. He urged his hearers to listen to Vivas and said that if we had more like him we would be alright. He said the condition of the Portuguese is worse than that of the Japs because of the Missionaries.

"What are you getting as wages?" he asked of a man in the audience. "Twenty dollars," was the answer. "This is but one-half of the salary of a common sailors," shouted Antone and he emphasized his statement by striking the table with his fist a blow that would have done credit to Hercules.

"The king of Portugal should die," he shouted. "It takes you twenty five years to get twenty five dollars per month on the plantations" he said, "Vote for the Democratic party, the party of the poor." With this he beat the table a few times with his fist and subsided amid the cheers of every body.

After calling for volunteer speakers for a while and getting no response, Thomas Clark took the floor but as he failed to be as amusing as some of the former exhibitions most of the audience dispersed.

Thomas Clark presided over the meeting and Manuel C. Ross was the secretary.

MASONS HOLD MEETING.

Many Masons have been taking higher degree this week at Kahului. Joshua Tucker came down Wednesday from Hilo and has been busy conferring the ranks each evening this week.

Mr. Tucker expected to leave last night for Honolulu after having worked for three nights in the degree work of the Masonic order.

Maui Girl Dies in Honolulu.

Mrs. Alex. J. Alencastre died in childbirth, the child being stillborn, at about 6:15 o'clock Monday afternoon in Honolulu.

She was formerly Miss Helen Butler and resided at the St. Anthony's Girl School of Wailuku, before being married to Alex. J. Alencastre, a brother of Rev. Father Stephen, who survives her with two children.

Mrs. Alencastre was about twenty-four years of age and was born on Maui. Her parents are not living.
